

Explore Colonial America at the historic Ephrata Cloister

M M 1748-1749

Printing the Book of Martyrs'

After a visit to the Sisters' House and Meetinghouse we'll go to the Printing Office to learn how the Brothers turned their own paper and ink into the largest book printed in early America.

2 hour visit

Discovery Tours

Your tour will start with a visit to the Meetinghouse and Sisters' House where we'll explore the daily life of Ephrata's members. After that visit, choose TWO of the following programs when making your reservations.

Writing with a Quill Pen

How's your penmanship?

Colonial Medicine

How are you feeling today?

Packing for America

What sort of things would immigrants to the New World bring along from their old homes?

The Ephrata Academy

Lessons in a one-room schoolhouse from pre-Civil War days.

2½ hour visit

By the time George Washington was 20 years old, the residents of Ephrata had built impressive buildings, created scores of artwork and musical compositions, and published the largest book printed in the colonies.

Now your students can learn about life in this early American community through these hands-on programs.

Community Days

During this program an "open house" format allows many students from different schools and home-school students to explore a range of learning stations located throughout the Cloister grounds. Travel at your own pace from station to station in any order. On these days you might:

- Visit the doctor
- Write with a quill pen
- Learn about colonial clothing
- Explore a one-room school
